A 2-DAY PROFESSIONAL COURSE THAT COMBINES STRATEGIC FORESIGHT TRAINING WITH HANDS-ON PLANNING FOR AN ERA OF ACCELERATING CHANGE.

HOW DO YOU PREPARE YOUR ORGANIZATION FOR FUTURE SUCCESS?

Tech companies 'play around' with developing software in a sandbox -- a place to test out options with no risk to the existing system. Once bug-free, the software is taken out of the sandbox and integrated into the real-time environment. Companies also need 'sandboxes' to explore approaches to their future.

JOIN US IN THE FORESIGHT SANDBOX

The Foresight Sandbox is a unique learning experience offering participants the chance to strengthen their foresight skills and explore different strategies to manage disruption and thrive in changing conditions. At the Sandbox, participants learn and apply futurist frameworks to build, test out, knock down, and rebuild future-focused strategies.

A DEEP DIVE ON COORDINATED TEAMS, ORGANIZATIONS, AND SYSTEMS

Recent years have unleashed many challenges on organizations, including the coronavirus pandemic, socio-political turmoil, and economic uncertainty. In this light, we continually seek to address the humble, but critical question, "How can organizations do better?"

When we seek to understand what makes some organizations especially resilient, the theme of "coordination" comes up consistently--bringing different elements of a complex organization into a relationship that will ensure harmony.

Coordination in management literature is traditionally presented as a route to efficiency. But strong coordination can also help you anticipate potential disruption and make you more capable of responding pro-actively to emerging change.

WHO SHOULD TAKE THE COURSE?

- Mid or senior-level professionals responsible for leading, planning, making decisions, or communicating strategy.
- Leading or developing human capital strategy and seeking to develop high-powered, collaborative teams using cutting edge insights.
- Leaders seeking to provide their teams with strategic foresight skills for better managing uncertainty.
- Organizational change agents who want to drive innovation, readiness, and strategic agility.

WHAT PARTICIPANTS SAY

"In a noisy marketplace, it may be hard to decipher fact from fiction and doubly hard to gather signals that can dictate our futures, for better or worse. This is an opportunity to train your instincts, regardless of your discipline, and become more action-oriented in tackling future-focused challenges." - 2020 Participant

"I came into the course as someone who'd experienced foresight in practice, but didn't have a lot of confidence because I didn't really know the rules. Now that I'm grounded in those rules, I have more confidence in what I'm saying and sharing and I've been able to use my new found knowledge effectively!" - 2020 Participant
